

Everyone Has Read It Except Me!

2021: Choose one book each month to read to make your own reading challenge

	JUVENILE	YA	CLASSIC	FICTION	NON-FICTION
Jan.	The Book of Three Lloyd Alexander	Ruby Red Kerstin Gier	The Phantom of the Opera Gaston Leroux	Kindred Octavia E. Butler	Endurance Alfred Lansing
Feb.	Mary Poppins P.L. Travers	The Throne of Glass Sarah J Maas	I Capture the Castle Dodie Smith	Jurassic Park Michael Crichton	I'll Be Gone in the Dark Michelle McNamara
March	The Dragonet Prophecy Tui T. Sutherland	Eleanor and Park Rainbow Rowell	Whose Body? Dorothy Sayers	One For the Money Janet Evanovich	The Federalist Papers Hamilton, Madison, and Jay
April	Where the Red Fern Grows Wilson Rawls	Truly Devious Maureen Johnson	The Scarlet Letter Nathaniel Hawthorne	Hunt for Red October Tom Clancy	The Library Book Susan Orlean
May	Howl's Moving Castle Diana Wynne Jones	Eragon Christopher Paolini	Dune Frank Herbert	Eleanor Oliphant Is Completely Fine Gail Honeyman	On Writing Stephen King
June	The Secret of the Old Clock Caroline Keene	Renegades Marissa Meyer	Watership Down Richard Adams	The Tattooist of Auschwitz Heather Morris	The Power of Habit Charles Duhigg
July	Stuart Little E.B. White	City of Bones Cassandra Cass	A Tale of Two Cities Charles Dickens	The Extraordinary Life of Sam Hell Robert Dugoni	Common Sense Thomas Paine
Aug.	Dinosaurs Before Dark Mary Pope Osborne	Sisterhood of the Traveling Pants Ann Brashares	Brave New World Aldous Huxley	The Furies of Calderon Jim Butcher	Rich Dad, Poor Dad Robert T. Kiyosaki
Sept.	Bud, Not Buddy Christopher Paul Curtis	The Children of Blood and Bone Tomi Adeyemi	The Grand Sophy Georgette Heyer	The Storied Life of A.J. Fikry Gabrielle Zevin	Diary of a Young Girl Anne Frank
Oct.	The Wishing Spell Chris Colfer	lluminae Amie Kaufman, Jay Kristoff	Dracula Bram Stoker	North and South John Jakes	Thinking, Fast and Slow Daniel Kahneman
Nov.	The Black Stallion Walter Farley	Ruins of Gorlan John Flanagan	The Count of Monte Cristo Alexandre Dumas	The Martian Andy Weir	Angela's Ashes Frank McCourt
Dec.	The Best Christmas Pageant Ever Barbara Robinson	Let It Snow Green, Johnson, and Myracle	Letters From Father Christmas J.R.R. Tolkien	Skipping Christmas John Grisham	The Man Who Invented Christmas Les Standiford