RECENT HAPPENINGS!

As part of HeritageFest, we're hosting an art show. Local artists submitted artwork for the show portraying what Andover Heritage means to them. Congratulations to the winners: P.K. Lippoldt, Mike Fallier, Kim Ownbey, Rylee Palacio, Isabella Roberts, Brooklyn Heideman. And don't miss HeritageFest on May 17th. Go to andoverks.gov/heritagefest to learn more.

The next time you walk into the library, you might notice something different! We currently have an art installation displayed throughout the library. This is done by artist Chiyoko Myose and reflects on the beauty of human encounters and the quiet moments that tie us together. Each knot symbolizes a treasured meeting, woven into a larger story of belonging and memory. This display will be up until June 12th

The city also hosted a fabulous egg hunt in the park last month, and afterwards they came to the library for crafts. We hope everyone had a wonderful Easter!

May is a big month at the library as we are getting summer reading started! Flip through this newsletter to see just a few of the events we have planned for May.

Evan Yazzie Solo Show

Opening Reception: May 1st 5-7pm

Friends Room

Evan Yazzie's solo exhibition showcases a bold fusion of Indigenous identity, 2D art, and motion graphics. Through layered visuals and purposeful complexity, Yazzie challenges the conventions of art and design. His work seeks not just to break rules, but to transform them—blending tradition with rebellion to create a vivid expression of self. This exhibition invites viewers to explore a visual language that is uncompromising, expressive, and unapologetically original. The art will be on the Project Wall May 1st – June 26th.

Blue Bird Installation Workshop with Chiyoko Myose

Inspired by The Blue Bird by Maurice Maeterlinck and illustrated by Brian Wildsmith, this hands-on workshop invites participants to create a collaborative floating installation using origami, fiber, light, and imagination. Led by artist Chiyoko Myose, participants will fold origami birds, design feathers from fiber and found materials, and explore how light, shadow, and motion bring installation art to life. At the end of the session, you'll help install the work and walk through the dreamlike world you helped create.
