RECENT HAPPENINGS!

In August, we had two special storytimes. On August 19th, residents from Rushwood senior living came and read a story. And on August 26th, Love on a Leash came to the library to help celebrate National Dog Day!

Coming up this month, we have a few early closures due to concerts in the park. The library will be closed on September 27th due to Greater Andover Days (GAD). GAD will be held in Andover Central Park September 26th-28th. You can start getting your buttons for GAD on September 4th. Here at the library, we are hosting an art contest. If you are interested in submitting, the deadline to enter is September 17th! Learn more about GAD on the City of Andover website: andoverks.gov/114/Greater-Andover-Days-GAD

KanRead is also starting this fall. Visit each library in the consortium and join in on a variety of fun events based on worldwide folklore! Inside this newsletter, you will find a list of fun events, including a painting party at Augusta, a yarn tree craft at Goddard, a fairy teacup craft at Park City, murder mystery at Derby, and more!

We hope everyone had a great start to the school year and have a wonderful fall!

Joshua's layered compositions evoke quiet emotional landscapes filled with color, memory, and abstract form, while Casey's hand-built ceramic pieces reimagine delicate sea life as symbols of beauty and impermanence. Together, the works invite viewers into sensory environments that celebrate the meditative act of creation and offer a quiet resistance to a chaotic world. This show will be on display from August 22nd-September 17th.
